DRAFT NOTE DEMANDING PEACEFUL DISTRICT

Previous Assurances From Peking Government Not Satisfactory, Claim

PEKING, Sept. 6.—A joint note from the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy, Japan and the United States was being drafted today, demanding that the Chinese government establish a neutral zone in the Chekiang-Kiangsu war zone extending from Woosung on the coast, to Kiangnan arsenal beyond Shanghai.

Previous assurances of the Peking government of the safety of foreigners are deemed unsatisfactory by the representatives of the five powers.

It is feared a naval attack on the Kiangnan arsenal would result in damage to foreign property in Shanghai and jeopardize the lives of foreigners.

Fierce Battles Raging; Russians Seeking to Enlist

SHANGHAI, Sept. 6.—A six-mile gain along the railroad beyond Huang Tu in a spirited counter-attack personally led by General Chewang Tse Ping, was claimed in the communique issued late this afternoon by Chekiang headquarters here.

Two entire companies of Kiangsu soldiers and four high officers were captured in this advance, the statement declared.

Victory in the engagement that has been raging at the other end of the thirty-mile battle line near Liuho was also claimed by the forces defending the Shanghai district.

WOMAN DIES IN DENTAL OFFICES

Mrs. Ermina Hendrie Passes Away After Operation For Removing Teeth

Mrs. Ermina E. Hendrie, wife of Matthew C. Hendrie of 408 West Maple street, died at 10 o'clock this morning, September 6, 1924, in the offices of Dr. L. A. Wright, exodontist, 220 Security building, following taking of gas for the removal of teeth. She was 52 years of age.

According to Dr. Wright, she had been sent to him for extraction work. She was given the anesthetic and her teeth removed. The operation was completed and she was apparently regaining consciousness when she suddenly collapsed and her heart stopped beating. Two physicians were called and worked untiringly to revive her, but to no avail.

Health Not Good, Claim

Dr. Wright states that he learned after her death that her health was not good. It is not yet decided whether there will be an inquest. It is stated that there is no reason to blame Dr. Wright.

Mrs. Hendrie was a native of Wakefield, Mass. She had lived in Glendale over five years. Besides her husband she leaves her mother, Mrs. L. E. Pratt of Freeport, Maine.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Kiefer & Eyerick upon word from the deceased's mother.

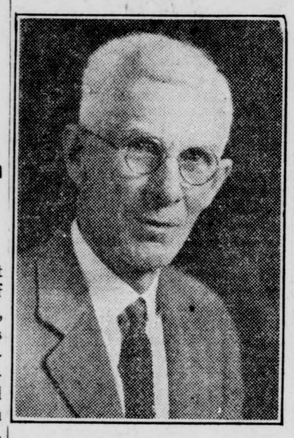
First Honors

T. A. WRIGHT, captain of team No. 4 in the "Bear Cats" division of the Y. M. C. A. drive, who won first honors in team recruiting by signing up a complete team yesterday.



All Subscriptions In Drive To Be Conditioned on Raising Whole Sum

The raising of $275,000 to give Glendale a thoroughly modern plant for the work of the Y. M. C. A., will be on the "all or none" basis. All subscriptions will be conditioned upon the entire amount being pledged prior to the time the first payment becomes due, which is November 1 this year. The executive committee regards it as only fair to the citizens, and particularly the donors of the larger amounts, that their gifts only become binding when the sum required is assured.

On this basis persons can make their subscriptions toward the full $275,000 amount having confidence that the full amount is to be obtained or they are released from the obligation assumed.

In order to raise $275,000 it is necessary, in the judgment of the promoters of the enterprise, that a very substantial amount be secured in pre-campaign contributions and a committee on special gifts made up of fifteen picked men, operating in units of three, will undertake during the next week to obtain some inspirational subscriptions.

Soliciting Units

This committee will be directed by David Black as chairman and C. D. Lusby as vice-chairman. The various soliciting units are made up as follows:

Unit 1—Dr. John Anderson, chairman; Delos H. Smith and C. W. Ingledue.

Unit 2—H. L. Finlay, chairman; A. R. Eastman and E. L. Schuyler.

Unit 3—C. D. Lusby, chairman; R. F. Kitterman and C. H. Bott.

Unit 4—Peter Hanson, chairman; H. P. Arnold and W. F. Tower.

Utility—David Black, Geo. D. McDill and Rex C. Kelley.

T. A. Wright, captain of team No. 4 in the "Bear Cats'" division, won first honors in team recruiting for the "Y" campaign by signing up his complete team yesterday morning. Captain Wright has enlisted Ed M. Lee as his lieutenant, J. N. McGinnis, Arthur G. Lindley, S. A. Trowbridge, W. J. Clendenin, C. R. Lusby, George E. Jeffries, W. N. Bott and Glenn R. Dolberg. The first prize in team recruiting is a subscription amount of $700 which goes to the credit of team four in the first official report meeting on Tuesday, September 16.

Mayor's Daughter Caught Speeding; Father Pays Fine

Because Miss Jean Robinson, daughter of Mayor Robinson, was in too much of a hurry with her auto to get to her home at 1234 East Windsor road yesterday afternoon, she was presented with an invitation to see Judge Frank H. Lowe, by a Glendale motorcycle officer.

When Mayor Robinson learned that his daughter had been invited to "tell it to the judge," he tuned in his trusty fountain pen, selected a crisp blank check and issued an order on his bank for $15—"even as you and I."

La Follette Proposal Filled With Danger, Declares President In Talk

By GEORGE E. DURNO
For International News Service.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 6.—Standing in the shadow of a newly unveiled monument to the great French revolutionist, La Fayette, President Coolidge assailed as dangerous and reactionary the proposal to subordinate the powers of the United States supreme court to those of Congress.

Such a proposal is incorporated in the platform of Senator Robert M. La Follette.

The president defined the creation of the supreme court as one of the greatest contributions America has ever made to the science of government, and declared that any such restrictions of its power would break down the fundamental guarantees of the constitution—the right to life, liberty and the free exercise of speech and religious worship.

Criticizes La Follette

He went into considerable detail in his criticism of the La Follette proposal to give Congress the power to set aside decisions of the supreme court, and he urged the people to "resist all such attempts."

"The time to stop those who would loosen and weaken the fabric of our government is before they begin," Mr. Coolidge declared. "The time for Americans to range themselves firmly, squarely and uncompromisingly behind American ideals is now.

"The question is whether America will allow itself to be degraded into a communistic and socialistic state or whether it will remain American. Those who want to continue to enjoy the high estate of American citizenship will resist all attempts to encroach upon their liberties by encroaching upon the power of the courts.

"The great body of our people have an abiding faith in their own country. The time has come when they should supplement that faith with action."

The president divided his address between a defense of the supreme court, a tribute to La Fayette and a statement on the foreign policy of the Republican administration. Speaking of America's relations with Europe, Mr. Coolidge reaffirmed his determination to avoid all "foreign entangling alliances," although at the same time extending helpful and economically sound assistance.

DAVIS ON CAMPAIGN

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 6.—A declaration for religious freedom and a pledge to guarantee all constitutional liberties featured the entry today of John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, into the grain belt of the west.

Mr. Johnston has served most ably during the past year as matador, and his election as toparch is indicative of recognition of executive ability and popularity among his fellow fez wearers.

Thousands Gather to Cheer Aviators Returning After Five Months' Trip

By LLOYD LEHRBAS
For International News Service.

AIRPORT, EAST BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 6.—Sweeping down out of a clear sky of blue, spotted here and there with fleecy clouds, the three American flyers who have winged their way around the globe during the last five months landed in the waters of historic Boston bay about 200 yards from the airport landing field at 2:08 o'clock this afternoon.

They were greeted by a salute of twenty-one guns, the national salute, tendered only to presidents of the United States, from anti-aircraft guns on the shore and by the cheers of the thousands assembled for the event which swelled into one mighty roar of welcome from all America.

Lieutenant F. L. Rass, in a radioplane, accompanied the world flyers on the last leg of their flight and broadast their progress as the villages and towns along their route passed beneath them in panorama, until they were first sighed at 2 o'clock.

Get Great Welcome

While whistles and sirens blew until they almost rocked the aircraft, the three planes, Lieutenant Smith leading, circled low over the barge, gay with flags and crowded with official guests and newspapermen and landed in the harbor.

Lieutenant Smith was the first to land, his pontoons striking the water in a perfect landing at 2:08 o'clock, not more than fifty yards from the barge. One minute later

CALL CONFERENCE ON WATER PROJECT

City Officials Will Attend Gathering In Pasadena Wednesday Afternoon

Virgil B. Stone, city manager, and Peter Diederich, superintendent of plant and production, will represent Glendale at a meeting of Southern California municipal officials to be held at the Pasadena University club at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, September 17, for the purpose of conferring on the proposal to bring water from the Colorado river to this section.

The meeting is called by Hiram W. Wadsworth, chairman of the committee of cities, and is an outcome of the meeting held in Long Beach the middle of August, at which Mr. Diederich represented Glendale. It is the opinion of Mr. Stone that the Pasadena meeting may crystallize into a definite organization with officers and committees.

Not Immediate Use

The project to bring water to Southern California from the Colorado river by means of the suggested Boulder Canyon dam or some other means, should not be looked for as an immediate development, Mr. Stone states, and in no way obviates the necessity for Glendale spending $550,000 to acquire additional water facilities, as proposed by the Citizens' Bond committee and introduced by the City Council as one of the issues to be voted at the special bond election of September 30.

"It may be ten years before we get water to Southern California from the Colorado river," he says. "We must look a long way ahead when dealing with that project. The need of Glendale for additional water facilities is, however, immediate and should be met without delay."

Subdivision of Land In Valley Is Started

LA CRESCENTA, Sept. 6.—Surveyors have been at work subdividing property on Montrose avenue at Rosemont street, where the owners, Mark S. Collins and L. B. Watkins, will open a high class residential tract in the near future. Each lot will have a frontage of fifty feet and the property is on high ground that affords a fine view of the valley below. A stone wall will be laid along the entire length of the tract on Montrose avenue. Mr. Watkins expects to build his home on the property. Houses will be built on the lots to be sold with them if the purchasers desire.

Announcement has been made that the price of lots in the Highway Highland tract west of Verdugo City will be increased $200 on September 10. Further advances before January are predicted by the subdividers. Over 100 families are now established in the new community, with a grocery and general store located there.

Guns are used to harpoon whales now and there is little danger to whalers.

BIG PARADE TO VISIT GLENDALE

Procession Takes Place on Next Tuesday Morning To Herald Show

and third places in the popularity contest that placed on Mrs. Kendig's brow the royal crown.

Decorated Autos

Next will come a car bearing the flower girls, then Mayor J. C. Crawford and the city trustees, the board of directors of the Burbank Chamber of Commerce, headed by President Charles B. Wood, then the car bearing the five judges, then the Burbank Municipal band, led by H. S. White, followed by a long line of decorated Burbank cars, after which will come cars from Glendale, Hollywood, Van Nuys, Lankershim and other San Fernando valley points, all gaily pennanted.

This mammoth parade will have a threefold significance, according to Manager Charleville of the Burbank Chamber of Commerce. Not only will it announce the opening of the big event but it will serve to commemorate Admission day, and thirdly, it will herald the fact that Tuesday, September 9, is "Glendale day" at the San Fernando Valley Industrial exposition.

Organ Recital

The parade is expected to arrive back at the exposition grounds in time for an organ recital at 2:15 o'clock. At 7:30 o'clock that night there will be a concert on the grounds by the Burbank Municipal band, and during an intermission Mrs. Harry Kendig will officially be crowned queen by Mary Philbin, the celebrated motion picture star.

President Charles B. Wood of the Burbank Chamber of Commerce will then deliver an address of welcome to the large gathering, particularly greeting the Glendale delegation whose "day" it is. Acting President Delos H. Smith of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce is expected to reply to this address, in the absence of W. E. Hewitt, president, who is on an eastern business trip.

The exposition will continue five days, closing Saturday night, September 13, Mr. Charleville states. A special program has been prepared for each day and thousands of people from all over Southern California are expected to come and pay homage to the queen of the San Fernando valley and her court, in her royal courtroom, the large exposition building, where over 100 booths have been set up, many of them containing elaborate exhibits.

CHINESE STRIFE PERILS ADVENTIST MISSIONARY

F. P. Greiner and Family, Stationed at Nanking, Menaced By Warfare of Rival Factions; Relatives In Glendale Anxious

F. P. Greiner, whose brother, L. Greiner, as an attendant at the Glendale hospital, is periled by the war between rival factions in China. He and his wife and their three children, Robert, Eleanore and baby Clarence, are stationed at Nanking, where he is secretary-treasurer of the Seventh-day Adventist publishing house and mission.

L. Greiner and their father, F. Greiner, who works at the Glendale sanitarium, are anxiously awaiting word from F. P. Greiner. A letter is already several days overdue, they state, as he has been in the custom of writing regularly once a week during the six years he has been stationed at Nanking.

Missionaries Menaced

Dr. and Mrs. Roger Paul, formerly of the White Memorial hospital in Los Angeles, and well known to many Glendalians, are stationed at Shanghai, directly in the center of the disturbance, according to Dr. C. C. Landis, surgeon at the Glendale hospital.

In all, nearly 100 Adventists are in the war area, he states, missions of this denomination being located at Shanghai and Nanking. At the Shanghai mission alone, there are seventy-five missionaries, physicians and workers.

Dr. Landis spent seven years in Shanghai, where he was in charge of the Red Cross general hospital for four years. In his opinion the war is largely a political gesture and will not last long unless outside elements enter into it.

He doubts if Chang Tso Lin, northern war lord, will risk his supremacy in Manchuria to attack Peking and thus precipitate a national, and perhaps international, conflict.

BIBLE COURSE AT CHURCH PLANNED

Rev. Chrisman In Charge Of Classes; Will Start Sunday Night

A Bible course for young people will be conducted in the Gospel Tabernacle church, corner of Louise and Chestnut streets, beginning Sunday night at 6:30 o'clock. Rev. C. H. Chrisman, pastor of the church, will be in charge of the course of study. Mr. Chrisman has received numerous requests from the young people of Glendale concerning a course of study along this line, and it is anticipated a large number will be in attendance at the first meeting.

The first seven subjects will be as follows: "The Origin of the Bible," "The Inspiration of the Bible," "Proof by Fulfilled Prophecy," "Proof by Undesigned Coincidence," "Twenty Reasons for Believing the Bible," "The Symbols of the Bible" and "The Right Use of the Bible."

Mr. Chrisman states the object of this course is to give to the young people desiring it a thorough knowledge of the great doctrines of the Bible and to prepare them for active Christian work.

Glendalian to Sing Over Radio Sunday

Harry S. Robinson of 720 North Central avenue, who is tenor soloist at the First Methodist church of Los Angeles, will be assisted by the church choir of 150 voices on Sunday morning, at 11 o'clock, when they will broadcast, by request, over the Times radio station, KHJ, the anthem "Ho, Every One That Thirsteth," from the "Wayfarer." Mr. Robinson will sing the tenor obligato.

Greets Son on Return From European Jaunt

Mrs. Charles H. Toll of 415 Kenneth road has just returned from San Francisco, where she enjoyed a two weeks' rest and had the happiness of greeting her son, Gerald, upon his return from a tour abroad with the University of California Glee club.

While abroad the club visited Scotland, Norway, Sweden, Germany, Switzerland, Belgium, France and England. They had the interesting experience of flying from France to England.

In addition to being a singer, Mr. Toll is a talented saxophone player, and received much praise for his work. There were twenty-one university men, their leader and his wife, who made the trip.

INSPECTS SITES FOR CITY PARKS

Playground Specialist Has Praise for Glendale's Summer Activity

Interest in the proposed purchase of two city park sites was manifested yesterday by George W. Braden, special representative of the western division of the Playground and Recreation association of America, with headquarters at Pasadena, was in Glendale to inspect the two sites that have been tentatively proposed for parks. In company with R. Ernest Tucker, superintendent of recreation and executive secretary of Community Service, Mr. Braden went exhaustively into the local playground situation, commending Mr. Tucker for the work that has been accomplished during the past summer at the school grounds.

Mr. Braden called attention to the following resolution that was adopted at the president's national conference on outdoor recreation, held during the summer in Washington:

"That in view of the massing of our population in cities and towns, which, so far as foreseeable, will increasingly continue; and in view of the helplessness of children and youths to determine their own environment, and admitting their inherent right to a place in which to play; the conference recognizes that it is the duty of every community to provide and operate, either by public or private means, adequate space for play and recreation and that at least ten per cent of the area of a community should be regarded as the minimum requirement for this purpose, so distributed as to give all sections, as nearly as may be, equal accommodation, both as to location and area."

Glendale's Need

"Due to the unprecedented growth in population," said Mr. Braden, "nearly all of our Southern California cities are facing a genuine park famine. This is partly true of Glendale, 'The Fastest Growing City in America.'

"Adequate parks and playgrounds are not only a means to good citizenship, larger contentment and better morale but a wise economy. Parks not only enhance the value of adjacent property, but increase property values in the city as a whole. A recent study in St. Louis shows that bonds voted for parks and other municipal improvements released private investments on the basis of ten to one."

Wide Vista of City and Valley Spreads Before Modern Home Nestling Under Shade of Giant Trees at Foot of Towering Hills

Among the new and striking residences to be erected in Glendale, that of A. R. Eastman, president of the Glendale State bank, at 221 East Mountain street, stands out as a typical example of the Spanish style of architecture that is so popular in Southern California.

The new residence stands on the northwest corner of Mountain and Louise streets, commanding a sweeping vista of the city and the valley to the south, and with the mountains to the north affording an impressive view as the house nestles at their feet.

The house is a two-story stucco structure, with tiled roof, containing seven rooms, including three bedrooms and two baths, with every modern convenience embodied in its construction. The interior finish of the home is mahogany, and in the rear of the living room, which measures 25 feet by 18 feet, there is a patio in which a fountain plays and that also incloses a fish pond.

On all the windows the Spanish awnings lend a touch of color and the balconies that surround the windows also carry out the same motif, and the three terraces that fall away from the front of the house to the street level are now being landscaped in a manner that will harmonize with the house. The sprinkling system is also being installed in the garden now.

In the rear of the house there is a two-car garage which follows the same architectural lines as the home.

The building was erected by B. W. Sherwood, Glendale contractor, at a cost of $20,000, and Mr. Eastman and his family, who moved in this week, are planning to refurnish the home completely in harmony with the Spanish style of architecture.

Arrange Fall Activities For Women's Societies

Mrs. Charles H. Toll of Glendale, president of the Los Angeles district, California Federation of Women's clubs, has issued the call for the opening of fall activities, with the first presidents' council, of presidents and representatives of the 192 clubs in the district, Friday morning, September 19 in the new Friday Morning clubhouse, 940 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles.

Matters of general club interset will be considered during the morning. In the afternoon from 1 till 4 o'clock the subject, "American Citizenship," will be presented under the leadership of the chairman of the four departments listed under that head, including motion pictures, community service, co-operation with ex-service men and women and American citizenship.

Mrs. Toll has set a 100 per cent attendance from all clubs for presidents' councils of the coming year. The council in November will be held at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse in Glendale.

Drill Team Members To Be Dinner Guests

Glendale Knights Templar of the drill team of the local commandery are to have dinner tonight at the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard, and later attend a local theatre. A similar affair is planned for Monday night, when all members of the commandery and their wives will be present at a dinner and theatre party.

Bank's Burglar Alarm Calls Out Department

Several officers of the Glendale police department were rushed to the Brand boulevard branch of the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank, 104 North Brand boulevard, at 3:20 o'clock this morning, when the burglar alarm suddenly started ringing.

D. H. Smith, vice president and manager of the branch, was awakened at his home, 302 North Maryland avenue, and brought to the bank. After a thorough examination he reported that so far as he could observe, nothing had been disturbed.

The theory advanced by Mr. Smith is that the night watchman inadvertently touched one of the many "traps" that cause the alarm to go off, while making his regular rounds in performance of his duty.

Odd Fellows Planning New Lodge In Valley

An Odd Fellows lodge is to be instituted in the La Crescenta valley, if plans now under way carry through to completion. Yesterday L. E. Thompson of 547 Mira Vista avenue, Montrose, went over the territory with C. A. Palmer of Orange, grand warden; C. E. Wilde of Los Angeles, district deputy, and H. N. Fowler of Verdugo City.

It is planned to locate the lodge in Mr. Fowler's building, now under construction at the corner of Honolulu and Los Angeles avenues, where it is believed it would be convenient to a large number of Odd Fellws and candidates.

LEGION TO SHOW COLORS AT MEET

Local Post Flag to Appear In Convention Parade At St. Paul

The post flag of Glendale Post No. 127, American Legion, will be flung to the breezes that sweep the Minnesota spaces during the week of September 15 to 19 when the national convention of the American Legion is held at St. Paul. It was determined at the meeting of the local post, held last night in the Legion hall, 610 East Broadway, to sho wto the world that Glendale and Glendale delegates will be on hand.

E. W. Gilliland, second vice-commander of the post, who will be the official delegate from here, will carry the flag in the big convention parade. The presence of the post flag in the parade will win for Glendale a citation from national headquarters.

Regelin Presided

W. H. Regelin, first vice-commander, presided at the meeting last night in the absence of Commander Joseph A. Wilson, who is on vacation. It was announced that the plans for the new coliseum to be built for the Legion have been prepared, and the plans were approved by the members of the post. Appropriate ceremonies will be held when ground is broken on the Los Feliz road site.

Arrangements for Defense Day, in the hands of a committee headed by Mr. Gilliland, were explained to the members of the post. Details of the parade were told, and other matters pertaining to the turnout for the day were discussed.

The Y. M. C. A. campaign to raise $275,000 for a new building here was endorsed by the post members, following an address delivered by James F. McBryde.

The monstrous initiation planned for the night of September 12 has been postponed, it was announced by Mr. Regelin, on account of the absence of Adjutant E. E. McWain, who accompanied the body of his mother to Kansas City for burial. The membership drive will be arranged upon the return of Adjutant McWain, it was announced.

PUTS BAN ON ALL FRILLS; UNIFORM DRESS IS ORDER

Girls Themselves, By Vote of Five to One, Adopt Middy and Pleated Skirt; Those Who Break New Rule—Well, Beware!

Dame Fashion in all her fashionable fall finery will be an unwelcome registrant on Monday, when the Glendale Union High school opens for the 1924-1925 term, unless she is garbed in regulation middy and pleated skirt.

Frills and furbelows are to be marks of distinct bolshevism and loyalty to fashion's ultra dictates, and local high school misses who are daring enough to wear other than the prescribed uniform will be punished accordingly.

Miss Glendale, be she of high school age, blonde or brunette, slim or stout, pretty or plain, must adhere strictly to the uniform dress ruling adopted late last year by a vote of five to one.

Must All Be Alike

It is to be a solemn, silent vow to abstain from fashion's fads, and according to the loyal supporters of the ruling, will tend toward a greater spirit of feminine democracy and economy.

So be it Sue or Anne, Mary or Ruth, from the frolicsome freshman to the serious senior, they will be as alike as peas in a pod as far as dress is concerned.

The uniform decree says:

"Dark blue wool pleated skirt; white skirt in summer from April to November, if desired; regulation middy or all white middy; blue flannel middy may be worn from November to April, if desired; regulation black sailor tie; any style of shoes and stockings except satin slippers and French heels; a middy must be worn under all sweaters."

To see that no suppressed bolsheviki desires are given expression a uniform board has been appointed, consisting of Mrs. Ethel Hume Flood Moyse, dean of girls; a uniform chairman elected by the girls; four girls appointed by the dean of girls and uniform chairman.

How About Mere Males?

In cases of fashion bolshevism the offenders will be reported to the board. A girl appearing before the board three times without a good excuse, will have to serve hours, the hours to be determined by the board by the seriousness of the offense.

Just what effect the uniformed host will have on the male contingent of the school has not been predicted, for time will tell. However, it has been suggested that wise are the women teachers who rescue Dame Fashion from drowning in the great sea of white middies and blue serge.

UPLIFTERS FAIL

The welfare system bubble in big industries has burst, it is said. The workers did not respond as it was expected they would. Employes appreciate good wages, safe equipment, pleasant surroundings and wholesome working conditions, but it seems they do not care to have a paid welfare worker slap them on the back and ask after the family, patronize them by lectures in clubhouses, invade their homes and teach their wives how to keep house and to discipline their children.

A few years ago we heard a great deal about what big manufacturers were doing for their employes in the way of welfare work. It was the fad to "uplift" the working man, it was thought the scheme would pay by pleasing the workman and making him more contented. But the employer has learned that such methods are resented by the working man and the vast sums of money expended on the salaries of high-priced "uplifters" and the fads he inaugurated have been thrown away. "Put it in the pay envelope" has been the working man's answer to the "uplifter."

In this country every man feels he is as good as another. The "uplifter" naturally assumes a feeling of superiority. The very fact that he is trying to "uplift" someone presupposes that he is above them. And democratic Americans resent this attitude on the part of anybody. The American workman has absolutely refused to be patronized.

Everyone from the poorest unskilled laborer to the wealthiest capitalist in the land has his own circle of friends and chooses his own amusements. These friends may be just as tried and true; and these amusements just as clean and just as diverting in one strata of society as in the next higher strata; or they may not. Anyway the American working man reserves the right to choose his own companions and his own diversions without interference.

Manufacturers who have lost big sums of money as well as the respect of their employes by trying to "uplift" them are getting back to a more business-like basis. A square deal is what the modern working man wants. That and nothing more.

BUILDING FOR FUTURE

Los Angeles expects to have a population of a million and a half by 1930, and there is nothing whatever to lead to the belief that the estimate is too high. In spite of the cry of hard times people are still coming here by the thousands, industries are multiplying, and building is going on. While industrial activity may have slackened somewhat during the summer months, one has but to drive around Los Angeles, through her outskirts and suburbs to learn that building has not stopped, by any means.

While Los Angeles is growing, the cities around her will be making a proportionate growth. If Glendale continues her rate of progress, and there is no reason why Glendale should give up her slogan as the fastest growing city in the United States, we will make a greater per cent of gain than other cities.

This puts a problem definitely up to the people of Glendale. Unless some awful catastrophe intervenes Glendale is going to add thousands to her population during the next five years. These thousands will have to have provided for them, employment, transportation, homes, public service utilities, schools and other things. Glendale cannot build for today alone. We must think of the future, and the future embraces a much larger and greater Glendale than we know today.

THINK FOR YOURSELF

There is so much talk of corruption in politics, sinister influences, economic servitude, Wall street domination and the like. When this campaign propaganda was prepared, it is evident that the intelligence of the people was not considered at all. And, indeed, the public is so gullible that one has but to make a statement to have it believed. A man can attribute to his opponent the lowest of motives, and even though the people have the record of his integrity, and his ability spread before them, they will believe what is said.

Quoting scripture as well as great statesmen of the past sounds well from the lips of a candidate, but it is utterly meaningless as far as guaranteeing his own performances. There is no need of a campaign of calumny in this age of the world. None of the men who are candidates for the presidency are for sale. Those who say they are, know they are speaking falsely.

Judge for yourself. Learn to know these men as they are, not as some agitator with an axe to grind, tries to tell you they are. Hate and hysterics have no place in this campaign. Think the matter over carefully.

SPYING ON THE PRINCE

A private citizen has rights to which a public character may not lay claim, and privacy is one of them. It is right that the movements of a prominent person, such as the Prince of Wales, should be more or less public. But it would seem that when such a character visits a friendly neighbor country, purely on pleasure, good taste should dictate that he be not hounded to death.

Like most public characters, no doubt the prince expects publicity and homage from Americans. It is very likely he would feel affronted both for himself and for England if left to pursue his travels like an ordinary citizen. He has always had the adulation of the crowd, and he expects it. It is due to him as a man and to the great country he represents that we pay him respect and entertain him lavishly, but there is a line where hospitality ends and impertinence and intrusiveness begin that is being overstepped, and this the royal visitor might well resent.

GOOD PUBLICITY STUNT

A Los Angeles woman is reported as having attempted to commit suicide, first calling the office of a daily paper and making known her intention. This paper sent out reporters and photographers and, as might have been expected, they got there in time to save her life.

When people go to such extreme lengths in an effort to secure publicity they deserve not to be interrupted too soon. The newspapers are to blame in catering to such perverts and giving them the publicity they want. One who has reached the stage where he feels he cannot endure life any longer is not thinking much about publicity, in fact he tries to shun it.

The person who is without hope and who comes to the point of taking his own life is to be pitied, but the one who threatens suicide for one reason or another and has no intention of destroying himself is both childish and wicked.

Liberty

By DR. FRANK CRANE

Liberty is like everything else. It can be carried to extremes.

When Mme. Roland, on her way to execution, exclaimed: "O Liberty, what crimes have been committed in thy name!" she had in mind liberty carried to an extreme.

There is no liberty, of a practical nature, in the world, that is not limited by the demands of others. And only those experience the delights of liberty who are the readiest to admit those demands.

The fall of the Bastille and its destruction by the people of Paris on July 14 will forever remain a symbol of the fact that anarchy is the inevitable result of incompetent government.

The only way to establish a lasting government is, first, to see that it stands for equality of all before the law and, secondly, to recognize that, in most things, the people are to be free to do as they please.

When government becomes occupied merely in continuing itself, and when with this purpose it tramples upon the rights of the people, it is sowing conditions which will create the revolution which will overthrow it. France learned this great lesson and helped to teach it to the world.

America stands for the same thing and, in its way, England recognizes the same truth, that the peace and prosperity of a government depend upon the peace and prosperity of its people.

It has long been recognized by students of political economy that that government is safest which can most easily be put out of office and that the natural check to the tyrannical evidences of governments is the people themselves. The more educated and intelligent its people, the firmer is its government. For the government will recognize that the limits of its powers are always set by the will of the people. And, furthermore, that that government is surest which is founded upon popular good will.

Both the French and the American revolutions constituted a warning to all governments that the inevitable effect of tyrannical governmental incompetency is revolution. The frequent revolutions in the South American republics illustrate the same thing. It is not only necessary to give to the people the kind of government that is best for them, but it is necessary for them to realize what is best. In order to maintain its security a government must be founded upon the popular approval of its people, whether that government be a pure democracy, a republic or a limited monarchy.

The effect of tyranny, whether it is that of the Bourbons of France, of the reactionaries in England, or the tyrants in Russia, is always the same.

Horoscope

Mingled influences for good and the opposite may be disturbing today, according to astrology. Although Venus and Neptune are in benefic aspect, the Sun, Mars and Uranus are adverse.

Women have favorable directions of the stars and should benefit financially as well as socially.

This is read as a fortunate wedding day, since it seems to assure sympathy and congeniality.

While business conditions should improve all through this month, there may be a lack of interest in things that at other times would assure active trading.

The seers prophesy that there will be much irritation and impatience toward the middle of the month.

The planetary government appears to indicate that this is a waiting period in art as well as business.

Today should be employed in transacting business already started, in going on from a given point, but not in starting anything.

It is read as a forbidding rule for those who would seek employment or would make appeal for favor of any sort.

Throughout the entire month of September there may be a deprecating solar influence which is most unfavorable to speculation. Conditions will improve during the last ten days.

Nervous diseases may manifest themselves during this rule of the stars and all who would make extra demands on their strength may suffer severely.

Food should be studied wisely for there is likely to be much stomach trouble.

Persons whose birthdate it is should keep all business matters well in hand during the coming year. Changes will not be fortunate.

Children born on this day may be restless and fond of adventure. Boys should be able to carry on big enterprises, while girls probably will be industrious, sensitive and fond of excitement.

Letters From Election Day Aliens

Some reasons why men and women do not vote

Editor The Evening News—Your letter inquiring whether or not I voted at the primaries received. No, it didn't happen to be convenient for me. But I often do vote, especially if there is something important to be voted upon, like president of the United States, governor or something like that. Not that I am foolish enough to believe that my ballot cuts any ice but when a fellow has the right to vote he ought to use it once in a while. At least, that's the way I look at it.

You wrote as though you thought my voting or not voting at the primaries made any difference. Ha! Ha! That's pretty good. I didn't hear of any contests so close that one vote would have decided them. That's the way I look at it. I vote when it is convenient just to keep my hand in, otherwise I find that things run along just about the same without my vote.

I suppose what you say is true—that more people ought to vote. If a lot more people voted it would make some difference in the result but my one little vote isn't going to swing the election one way or the other. They used to say that in some places under the old system a man could keep voting all day if he wanted to. If that should be the case now it might make some difference whether I went to the polls or not. Ha! Ha! But when a fellow's got only one vote, what's the odds? The way I figure it I haven't got very much to say about the government or the candidates, anyway. Consider my one little vote against the whole of the United States and what chance have I got to have my candidate elected?

The deeper I go into the subject the less I think of my privilege—if you call it a privilege—of casting one vote.

Oh, I guess I will vote in November. Not that I expect to elect La Follette with my vote. Ha! Ha! But when all the fellows get to talking over the results of the election a guy hates to acknowledge that he didn't vote. It doesn't make any difference to the country or to me either, but some people think you are queer if you don't vote.

Hurrah for La Follette and Wheeler,

I. M. INSIGNIFICANT.

HIGH HONOR FOR RICHFIELD'S GAS

California Refinery Product Is Used by Winners In Racing Classics

Some of the first gasoline to be turned out by the specially designed equipment and improved processes of distillation perfected by the Richfield Oil company in its newly completed $2,000,000 refinery at Hynes, California, was shipped to Altoona for the 250 mile Labor Day classic and won high honors in the cars of Jimmy Murphy, Tommy Milton and Fred Comer, who won first three places against a field of the greatest racing drivers in America.

The "Gasoline of Power" also established a new world's record on the same date in a different section of the country when it won first place in the Pike's Peak hill climb in the Lexington Special driven by Ott Leosche, who broke Ralph Mulford's famous record which has stood since 1916. The Lexington reached the top in 18 minutes and 15 seconds, according to wires received here.

Praise From Murphy

Officials of the Richfield organization and the United Oil company, by whom it is controlled, state that the new Richfield gasoline is as nearly perfect for the requirements of the modern automobile motor as is possible in commercial operation, resulting from a system of continuous fractionation and rectification where it is re-distilled some thirty times and specially treated, totally eliminating all acids and impurities and giving an almost perfect chain of boiling points. Richfield has been highly complimented by every driver who has tried the new gasoline and C. M. Fuller, president of the company, received the following wire from Murphy immediately after winning the Altoona race:

"Richfield gasoline carried me to another victory today, making three straight victories for me on Richfield. Congratulations on wonderful product."

BUSINESS IS ON STABLE FOOTING

Economic Summary for This Region Shows Trade to Be Stabilized

Stabilization of business activities upon a level lower than that of 1923, but materially in excess of any year prior to 1922, is the keynote to the economic development of the Pacific Southwest during August, according to a summary compiled by the First National bank of Los Angeles, the Pacific Southwest Trust & Savings bank and the First Securites company of Los Angeles.

It is pointed out that August is usually quiet in this territory, with the vacation period interfering with the business activities of the cities, and wth most of the crops not yet developed to a point where final estimates on production may be accurately made. However, the developments of the month have been sufficiently definite to indicate beyond question that business has discounted the major recessions in activities and is prepared for a fall turnover of a volume around the 1922 level.

Structure Is Sound

In the face of the difficulties that this Southwest region has had to face on account of the foot-and-mouth disease and insufficient rainfall, these conditions, it is claimed prove beyond question the basic soundness of the economic structure to the most skeptical observer.

Observers have wondered whether there will be sufficient precipitation to replenish the somewhat depleted reservoirs in this territory, and while scientists have not yet definitely reached a point where they can give a forecast covering more than an extremely brief period, rain-

Activity In Home Building Reported In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 29.—Home building, which has been in a slump during the early summer months, has become active again, and approximately $1,000,000 worth of dwellings have been placed under contract by big realty firms. The renewal of building really is an expression of faith in the future, as demand has not increased to any large extent.

Indications are, however, that the winter volume of home sales will be up to the standard of past years. Hotels report that reservations are piling up rapidly and railroad passenger men anticipate that winter travel to the Pacific coast will equal or exceed that of last year.

American vessels in the trans-Pacific trade are carrying almost double the number of passengers being transported by Japanese lines and those of other nations.

Sand Dunes Threaten To Cover Desert Town

SAN BERNARDINO, Sept. 6.—Motorists coming in from the Kelso district report that a sand dune fifty feet in height is slowly moving in on that town and residents are worried that within a few years their abodes will be inundated by the shifting desert terrain. Winds on the desert move the dune several inches each day.

Heavy Winter Travel To Hawaii Predicted

SON FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Unusually heavy winter travel to Hawaii is expected to result from co-operation between eastern railroad lines and Pacific steamship companies. Advance reservations are 25 per cent heavier today than a year ago.

MANY CITIES HAVE ZONE STATUTES

Secretary Hoover Endorses System; Movement Grows Through Country

Approximately 24,000,000 people, living in 261 municipalities throughout the United States, are enjoying the benefits of zoning, according to statistics compiled by the division of building and housing of the Department of Commerce. The greatest zoning center is in the territory in New York state and Northern New Jersey, having New York City for its hub; other centers are in California, Massachusetts, Illinois and Wisconsin.

Secretary Hoover, in a recent statement, characterized properly drawn zoning ordinances as "reasonable, neighborly agreements as to the use of land." They divide a city into districts in which are limited the use to which land and structures may be put; the height and number of stories of the buildings, and the areas of the lots to be occupied by the buildings. Their professed object is to regulate the use of private real estate for the purpose of promoting health, safety, morals and the general welfare of the entire community.

System Spreads

That the idea has made a strong appeal to the American people is shown by the rapid spread of zoning. On January 1, 1923, there were only 129 zoned cities, towns and villages. The first comprehensive effort to zone was the passage of a zoning ordinance by New York City in 1916, although Los Angeles, Calif., passed a "Use" ordinance in 1909, and Boston, Mass., regulated the height of buildings in 1904.

PROSPERITY SHOWN IN REPORT

Internal Revenue Collector Reveals Increase In Southland Taxes

The annual report of Collector of Internal Revenue Rex B. Goodcell, for the Sixth district of California, comprising the ten southern counties, for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, discloses the following facts which indicate increased prosperity in southern California, and continue to mark Los Angeles as the White Spot of the Nation:

Total collections for the fiscal period ending June 30, 1924, for all classes of taxes, show enormous increase over those made for the same period ending June 30, 1923. The collections for the 1923 fiscal year amounted to $47,938,443.55, while those for 1924 indicate marked increase with the staggering total of $56,963,844.25, a gain of $9,025,400.70, or 18.6 per cent.

Proves Banner Year

This increase proves the truth of the indications pointed out by Collector Goodcell in the beginning of this fiscal year, that it would develop the greatest return of federal taxes ever collected by the Los Angeles office, and that it would take first place as the "banner year" in the history of the Sixth district.

The collections for this fiscal year exceed those made in 1921, which was heretofore the greatest year of the Los Angeles office, and during which year $56,443,431.63 was collected, contrasted with the collections of the present year of $56,963,844.25, a gain of over half a million dollars, or $520,413.62.

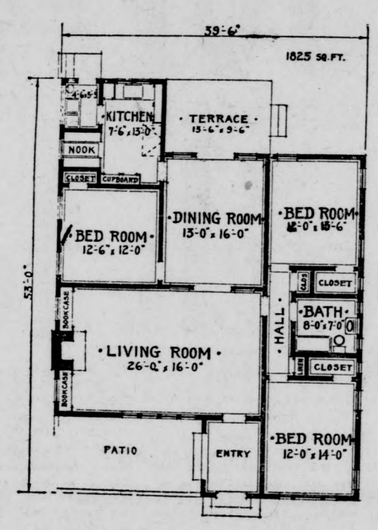
Conveniences Mark Home

The plans for the home shown below indicate the many cabinets, closets and other features that make for comfort in the home, while the spacious patio and the commodious living room also add to the pleasant atmosphere of the house.



• FLOOR • PLAN • NO. 1924 •

This spacious, pretentious home of more than ordinary attractiveness conveys ideas and suggestions which cannot help but make appeals to builders who are seeking distinctiveness.

While the exterior lines are plain, the special door and window details harmonize and express tastefulness.

The stucco may be applied over brick, tile, metal or wood lath or any of the composition plaster boards.

The extra porch and enclosed patio gives the exterior a true Spanish appearance. The floor plan drawing conveys quite clearly location and sizes of the rooms, together with closet space, cabinets, etc. The spare bed room, if not desired, could open into living room and used as a music, library room or den. The interior of this home contains all modern labor and time-saving conveniences, and altogether represents a home building idea that you will be making no mistake in adopting.

REALTY MEN WILL HEAR GOVERNOR

Richardson Will Address State Association at Pasadena Meeting

Governor Friend W. Richardson has tentatively accepted the invitation to address the twentieth annual convention of the California Real Estate association at Pasadena, October 8, 9, 10 and 11. H. Robert Ennis, president of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, will be another honored guest.

V. Percy Brun, San Francisco realtor, will be the chairman of the conference on real estate salesmanship at the convention. The divisional plan will be followed and O. A. Vickrey, vice president of the state association, and well known in California realtor circles for many years, will be the chairman of the business and industrial property division. C. H. Antrim, Fresno realtor, will be the chairman of the important farm lands division of the convention.

Clogston in Charge

The same realtor who handled the home builders and subdividers division at the national convention in Washington, Bert L. Clogston, will be in charge of this division in Pasadena. Mr. Clogston, whose experience in the subdivision field of Los Angeles was widely recognized by his appointment as chairman of the national committee of the division he will lead at Pasadena, promises to make this division one of the outstanding features of the convention.

The increased interest in multiple listing is certain to attract many to the conference on this important subject which will be under the chairmanship of H. E. Nightingale of the Southwest Realty Board. Many of the boards have adopted the multiple listing service and from all over the state come reports manifesting great interest in this section of the convention.

More than 600 realtors from north of the Tehachapi have signified their intention of coming to Pasadena for the state convention. The San Diego Realty Board is coming 100 strong. This board will demonstrate the operation of a model realty board one day during the convention and President Barnson has promised that the board will be a revelation in its demonstration.

ATTORNEY TELLS COURT DECISION

Important Point In Sale Contract Emphasized by Board Lawyer

Carlos G. White, attorney for the Oakland Real Estate board and author of the law notes published in California Real Estate magazine, makes the following pertinent suggestion to real estate dealers:

"No owner can be held for a sale made on any terms other than that specified in the broker's contract unless the owner specifically assents to said terms, or unless he refuses absolutely to sell at all in a case in which the broker could have modified the terms had objection been made.

Must Object to Terms

"If the owner has any objection to make to the terms offered, and without objecting to them refuses absolutely to sell, the broker may recover his commission if his buyer was ready, able and willing to perform the terms offered. In one California case it was contended by the defendant that the real estate broker had not proved that he had secured a purchaser ready and willing to enter into a binding contract on the very terms and conditions authorized in his written employment. In affirming a judgment of some $4,500 in favor of the broker the California Court of Appeals declared as follows:

Appellate Decision

"We do not need to analyze the authorization and the offer of acceptance in order to ascertain if appellant's construction of the two instruments is sound. Assuming the fact to be as appellant contends, as a matter of abstract law his contention is so far correct, but the advantage thus gained by him was lost when he failed to make any objection to the offer on the part of the purchaser at the time it was presented by the plaintiff. . . .

"Consequently when neither the corporation nor the defendant rejected the offer for the purchase of the property, upon the ground that it was not in accordance with the original contract for making the sale, it became a binding obligation upon the corporation, and it could not defend against plaintiff's claim upon the ground that he had not produced a purchaser ready and willing to enter into a binding contract upon the terms and conditions authorized by his employment.

"Where property is sold by a

Home is where love and happiness reign supreme, where loyalty and community pride are formed, where poets and patriots are inspired, where the nation is born. Home is the place where time passes gently, leaving behind treasured memories of the hours spent there. Home is where the present is enjoyed to the fullest, where the future is planned, where the business of living is conducted smoothly and efficiently.

However large and beautiful a dwelling place may be, sentiment is lacking if the dwellers regard their house as merely a temporary place in which to live. A home brings to its occupants the pride of ownership.

The home owner, by virtue of the fact that he owns his own home, acquires a reputation as a man of thrift and business sagacity. His credit grows. He achieves financial, as well as social prestige.

It is very true that building a home usually calls for sacrifice, but it is worth all the self-denial it ever costs, and more. And, like other things, the more hardships encountered in securing it, the dearer it becomes when it is finally attained.

A great deal of the joy of owning a home must always come with the planning and the materialization of those plans. The home-builder appreciates joy that never comes to the renter or even owner of a "ready-made" home. He takes a loyal pride in planning and building his home to beautify his community and add to its value. The home-builder is given the chance to imbue his home with his own personality, to have exactly the things he wants in the way he wants them.

The above plans are furnished by the Bentley Lumber Co., situated at 460 West Los Feliz road. Hundreds of similar styles and floor plans are on exhibition at the offices of this organization. Free building information to all, and there is no charge to customers for any plan selected from their service. All plans are complete, namely—foundation, floor plan, right, left, front and rear elevations, built-in features, etc., all figured out, ready for the contractor to begin operations.

Asks Supervisors for Ad Rates on Pavement

SANTA ANA, Sept. 6.—Earl Dutton, prominent resident of Anaheim, wants to know what the "rates" charged by the county for advertising on its pavements are. In an inquiry to the board of supervisors, Dutton said he wanted to use the pavements to advise the public to "Eat More Avocados."

CHAPTER XLV.

"They don't anything of the kind, you poor, impatient boy!" Hilary assured him, soothingly.

"Look, look for yourself!" he cried, hunting for a particular bill. "Here—I tell this donkey of a man I will not have these shoes, I send them back! Behold them here, and this time in red ink—"

"Konrad," Hilary said, mildly, "if you would just look. This red means a credit; they are giving you credit. Do you see, down here?"

His face smoothed.

"The good little mother, she calls me the impatient poor boy!" he said, gently and contentedly. "And now she comes with the busy, kind hands, and makes all beautiful for me. These, shall I write to them? Katharine Barrison—I do not know you, Madame Barrison, but you would like me to play for your club? I will not play for your club, Madame not play for your club, Madame——"

"That bunch are all old," Hilary said, taking it out of his hands. "You need do nothing about those. I will simply write saying that Konrad Kronski has been in Canada for a month, and regrets——"

"Rejoices——" he amended, in high spirits.

"Regrets that it is too late," she proceeded, smiling. "These I didn't open. And these are all formal invitations: dinners and things. You'll have to decide about those."

She was secretly amused at his casual glances at the letters; he tossed them aside carelessly.

"Burn them with the rest," he said. "About these invitations—who are these good people?"

"Why, I don't know many of them." She took them into her beautiful hands, shuffled them over. Konrad, in great felicity, listened to the names, commented upon the persons.

"They don't like me," he said, in sudden gloom. "But they like to say that I have been at their houses!"

"The telephone rang, and with a shout of rage he snatched it. But Hilary interposed; took the message serenely. Yes, the telephone was very satisfactory; no, they had had no trouble.

"Now, I'll tell you what, Konrad," she said, "I'm going to come in, every two or three days, and keep all this sort of thing straightened out for you. It's ridiculous for you to do it all, and it would be almost impossible for you to get a secretary for only three months or so."

Upon this beautific arrangement they parted, and Hflary walked home to lunch in high spirits. The air seemed full of delicious tang today, and the shifting of the brilliant autumn crowds about her filled her with sheer joy in living. Poor Konrad, she thought maternally, he was certainly not fitted for the material problems of existence. And fortunate Hilary, her thoughts ran on happily, to be the friend who could be so useful to him in distress!

"Do you know, I like him, quite peculiarly," she confessed frankly, a few days later, when she and Dora had gone into the studio in the late afternoon to find a dozen other persons there. Fenton, the winter's favorite painter, an enormously fat, blond young man, was on the hearth; Violet Vanderwort was eclipsed in a big chair, her slim hands emerging with her tea-cup; Etelka Alexandrowska, a big Russian woman who had been a concert singer, and her pale little nervous husband were there; the vigorous Etelka at the piano with Kronski apparently quarrelling. One or two other persons were on the divan; among them, with his high laugh and confident chatter, Cy Dwyer.

Hilary had taken her tea from Kostia, with a nod of greeting, and seated herself on a sort of bench beside Von Mandescheid, whose head shook for a long time with a sort of benignant welcome, and whose eyes shone upon her affectionately.

"I really and truly like him," she said, dreamily, when they had all laughed at the battle-royal at the piano, and had contributed various anecdotes of Konrad's impetuosity. "He is so simple; he is not in the least spoiled. And that very thing makes him seem odd! But I do like him!"

"Now don't you go telling us about Santa Claus next—Miss Collier!" Violet Vanderwort drawled. The young man beside her, a pale, excitable writer of vers libre, laughed out with sudden relish.

"I'm a good woman, Audrey, I swear it!" shouted Cy Dwyer suddenly from the hearth.

"Santa Claus?" Hilary echoed, literally, a little at loss.

"She means that we are all in love with Konrad, Sis," Butterfly elucidated, serenely.

"Speak for yourself, Butterfly," Violet suggested, sweetly, and the company laughed again. "Butterfly had it all her own way last spring, Miss Collier," Violet continued, lazily, "but now we are all in the field!"

"I'm not!" Hilary protested, smiling, and a little bit affronted at what she inwardly characterized as Violet's "commonness."

"What field are we all in, and what do you not?" Konrad himself asked, joining the group, lighting a cigarette, and looking expectantly about. "Do you know what this good friend does?" he asked them, glancing at Hilary. "She is my secretary—my banker, and my stepmother! She comes to my desk, and she plays upon my typewriter as she plays upon the piano!"

"That's nothing to do!" Hilary laughed deprecatingly as he stopped to puff at his cigarette. "I found his papers in the most horrible confusion," she explained to Etelka Alexandrowska, "and I run in now and then and set them straight."

"Why, how—how nice!" Violet commented, slowly, looking from one to the other.

"Nice, except that I am afraid of my stepmother!" Konrad said, gaily. When he used this tone, Hilary was always ecstatically happy, she did not know why. She thoroughly enjoyed her role of guardian; even though there were moments when it gave her sharp twinges. If one of these managing women should get him, and ruin his life!

fall statistics show that, in the past forty-seven years, a year of short rainfall has been succeeded, as a rule, by a winter of normal precipitation, and from this it is argued that the coming season will see an abundant rainfall.

Short crops are predicted in many instances, but the strength of the markets indicates that the monetary returns to the growers will be equal to that of any recent year.

The summary indicates that the agricultural interests, at the close of the 1924 season will be in a better position to start next year's operations than at any time since the close of the post-war speculation period.

Expansion in building activity is also noted durng the month, the level exceedng any year previous to 1923, while the real estate market shows a tendency to improve. Industrial production, in spite of the inconvenience caused by the power situation, has remained steady, although the inauguration of new plants has been somewhat retarded.

Uncle Wiggily

By HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY'S TUMBLE

Once upon a time, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping over the fields and through the woods, looking for an adventure, he saw Sammie Littletail, the rabbit boy, lying on a bed of ferns under a greenwood tree. And Sammie was just lying there, blinking his eyes, lazy like.

"What are you doing, Sammie?" asked Uncle Wiggily, for he often watched over the animal boys and girls of Woodland to see that they didn't get into mischief.

"I'm not doing anything, Uncle Wiggily!" laughed Sammie, "and I'm having a lot of fun doing it."

"So I see," spoke the bunny gentleman, "but why aren't you at school?"

"I got out early, 'cause I knew my lessons," said Sammie.

"Well, I'm glad you knew your lessons," went on Uncle Wiggily, "but it isn't good for a growing rabbit boy to brow up lazy. You should find something to keep you busy. I don't mean that you should not play some of the time—no, indeed! But it seems to me you ought to be practicing your digging lesson, instead of just lying under a tree, doing nothing."

"All right," cheerfully answered Sammie, for very often Uncle Wiggily gave him lollypops or gumdrops. "All right, I'll practice. But where shall I dig?"

"You might dig in my garden," answered the bunny gentleman. "I am going to plant some late beans. They might be ready to eat before frost comes."

So Sammie hopped to the garden behind the bunny gentleman's hollow stump bungalow, and there the little rabbit boy began to dig. He dug and he dug and then he dug some more. He made deep holes in the ground. He tunneled here and there, building burrows. Burrows, you know, are underground tunnels in which rabbits live when they don't have hollow stump bungalows.

All of a sudden, as Sammie was digging deep down in the ground, he heard voices up over his head.

"That sounds like Uncle Wiggily and Nurse Jane talking," thought Sammie down in the burrow he had made. "I must be under and near the bungalow. I'll dig straight up and surprise Uncle Wiggily."

Sammie began digging so he would come out on top of the ground. He worked his paws very fast. My, how he made the dirt fly behind him! Soon he saw a glimmer of light. Then he broke through the crust of earth and came out on top of the ground.

And he happened to dig out right behind were Uncle Wiggily was standing, talking to Nurse Jane in the garden. Uncle Wiggily was saying:

"I told that Sammie boy to come and dig in my garden, but I don't see him anywhere! Dear me! How lazy the young rabbits are now!"

And just then Sammie popped up out of the hole he had dug. Nurse Jane saw him, and, pointing her tail at him, she squeaked:

"There's Sammie now—behind you, Uncle Wiggily!"

"Where?" cried the rabbit Uncle, and he turned so quickly that he tumbled head over tail into the hole Sammie had dug. Right on top of Sammie, in the hole, toppled Uncle Wiggily, falling backward.

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Sammie, as he scrambled out. "I guess I'm a pretty good digger, Uncle Wiggily! Ha! Ha!" And then he stopped laughing for he feared Uncle Wiggily might be hurt, or angry.

But the bunny gentleman was neither. Up he jumped with a laugh and a twinkle of his pink nose.

"You are, indeed, a good digger, Sammie," he said. "But next time, please don't dig a hole for me to tumble into." Sammie said he wouldn't, and then he ate the lollypop gum drop his uncle gave him.

And if the chocolate candy doesn't cry because it can't be made white, like a marshmallow cream, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's brick dust.

the face of the fact that under recent provisions of the internal revenue act a 25 per cent reduction in tax on 1923 income was made. As a result of the revision of the tax rate on 1923 income, pending at the time of the filing of returns for that year, large numbers of taxpayers have paid their tax for 1923 on the installment basis, instead of making full payments as heretofore.

The increase of tax collections for this year, over the collections for 1921, covering 1920 income, is also made in spite of the lowered surtax rates for 1923 income and the fact that the personal exemption for married persons was $2000 in 1920, with but $200 exemption for each dependent, whereas the personal exemption to the large number of new returns filed this year, and to the increased prosperity and stable business conditions existing in the Los Angeles district.

Collector Goodcell says the increased revenue collected is due for married persons, for net incomes of $5000 or less, was $2500 in 1923, with $400 exemption for dependents.

Impress Hunters to Fight Forest Fires

WEAVERVILLE, Sept. 6.—Conscription of deer hunters to fight forest fires and introduction of the airplane to hunt deer were the featres of the opening of the deer season in Trinity county.

With several forest fires started by electric storms raging in the county, forestry officials requested many of the hunters to drop their guns and fight the fires, which are today reported to be practically under control.

L. M. Brate of San Francisco, desiring to crowd as much sport as possible in a limited time, flew from San Francisco to Red Bluff, secured a hunting license and, after securing directions as to the best place to seek bucks, took the air again toward Trinity county.

Diet And Health

By LULU HUNT PETERS, M. D.

ANSWERS TO CORRESPONDENTS

REDUCING AND CONSTIPATION

"Dear Dr. Lulu: Enclosed please find ten cents in stamps for which send me pamphlet on reducing. This is for a friend. Will you also send pamphlet on constipation? I find this trouble is aggravated when I decrease my amount of food.

"Your articles are such an inspiration and help to me every day. You probably know that we fat ones need a great deal of inspiration and help, for I find that the Will gets fat and sluggish along with the rest of the body. Your saying, 'It is better to have lost and gained than never to have lost at all' always gives me renewed energy when I think of it. We have a great deal of company and I am known to be a good cook, so I have often fallen from grace. But off and on, since last September, I have lost 20 pounds and feel as though I had lost 120. I don't have those terrible sick headaches I used to have about every two weeks and can work hard all day and enjoy it. I hope to be able to write you again before many months and say I have lost the other 20 pounds which will bring me down to normal.—Mrs. L. O."

Sometimes, when those who are overweight decrease their amount of food, their constipation is relieved rather than aggravated. Are you getting sufficient bulk in your diet? We must emphasize again and again that the 1200 C. (the average number which we advise for reduction purposes) must consist of calories that contain the elements the system needs—the vitamins, mineral elements and complete protein. There should also be considerable bulk, plenty of shredded raw cabbage, coarse vegetables and fruits of all sort, etcetera. If these do not result in a thorough evacuation of the intestinal tract every day, add one-half cup of cereal bran to your diet, which you can count as 50 C. (The ordinary finer bran you will have to count 100 C.). Or you can add some agar or mineral oil, which can be purchased at the drug stores. Drink plenty of water between meals, at least eight glasses. Sometimes a cup of hot water with a pinch of salt in it, before breakfast, is effective.

Yes it is true that the Will gets fat and sluggish along with the rest of the body, but with every victory it is strengthened. It is much harder to lose an excess of 120 pounds than an excess of 20 pounds, because the excess of 20 pounds does not mean the deformity or ill health that the greater excess does. However, an excess of even less than 20 pounds makes you fight overweight continuously. One pound of extra fat seems to act as a leaven for more to come on. Best to get that 20 pounds off. Thank you for writing.

MILK DISTURBANCE

J. D. B.—The ideas which you have on milk you have evidently obtained from a very good source, as they are all scientific. I have given most of them in the column off and on.

I find that my humor sometimes gets me into trouble. "Here's to Good Old Milk—Drink It Down" is an example. It stirred your ire, mildly. It is better to sip milk than to drink it down rapidly, although it has been shown that even when it is sipped, it sometimes forms large curds. The taking of milk with cereals or with bread breaks it up more than sipping it does. You do not disagree with my article, "Milk—Again" so much as you think.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE

Mr. R.—One reading for blood pressure would not be enough, for sometimes the nervousness attendant upon a first reading may cause the pressure to rise from 10 to 50 degrees higher. With emotional people there is undoubtedly a considerable fluctuation in the blood pressure. The normal pressure is considered to be 100 plus one-half the age. We have an article on this subject which you may have by forwarding a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this paper.

My Dear Followers:—When sending for material which we offer you please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose four cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 200 words, and type or write them legibly with ink. Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. The questions you ask will be answered in the column as soon as possible; if they are of general interest. Don't forget the s. a. s. e. if you expect me to send you the information I have offered.

Many Cities Adopting Zoning Ordinances

throughout the country, generally, are showing more than a passing interest in zoning. Where authority is granted, various municipalities are actively engaged in the solution of their zoning problems with enthusiastic zoning commissions and auxiliary committees at work. Even where state legislation does not authorize zoning, various public-spirited and progressive organizations are studying the local situation so that when zoning can be effected legally, much of the preliminary work will be finished.

New Jersey leads in the number of zoned municipalities, having 66; New York has 41; California has 33; Illinois, 25; Massachusetts, 24; Ohio, 16; Wisconsin, 13; Indiana, 5; Michigan and Missouri, 4 each; Iowa and Rhode Island, 3 each; Florida, Michigan, Oklahoma, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Washington, 2 each; and Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Georgia, Maryland, Nebraska, North Carolina, North Dakota, South Carolina, Tennessee, Utah and the District of Columbia, one each.

The complete list of zoned municipalities can be secured from the division of building and housing, Department of Commerce, Washington, D. C.

Multiple Lists Is Applied to Farms

farm land division of the National Association of Real Estate Boards is being tried out on a state-wide scale by a system just put into operation by the Kentucky Real Estate association.

Formulation of a plan to list California farm lands with all farm lands dealers of the state simultaneously is now before the California Real Estate association. Other state real estate associations are considering a similar undertaking.

Realtors in twenty-five communities are enrolled in the new Kentucky state multiple listing system, which will list farm and suburban property. An exclusive contract is required of the listings. The listing must be for a definite time, not less than three months. A fee of $1 is required for subscription to the system.

Five per cent of the gross commission on sales goes to the state association and the remainder is divided two-thirds to the selling agent and one-third to the listing agent. The rate of commission to be paid is definitely stated in the contract form.

CALL MEETING OF BOND EXECUTIVES

Chairmen Sub-Committees To Plan Campaign on Issues Monday

Members of the executive committee of the Citizens' Bond committee, consisting of chairmen of the various sub-committees, will meet Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce to lay plans for an intensive campaign to put over Glendale's $1,705,500 bond issue for civic improvements and additions.

The meeting has been called by D. H. Smith, general chairman and ex-officio member of the executive committee. Executive committee members are: W. L. Twining, P. J. Hayselden, Alexander Mitchell, O. M. Newby, Charles Marshall, Roy L. Kent, L. H. Wilson, H. M. Bennett and Dr. Floyd Thompson. Mr. Newby is secretary of the executive committee.

The executive committee will outline suggestions for the committee on ways and means and the committee on publicity to follow in the campaign. Data relative to the city's present bonding capacity, assessed valuation and the amount of additional taxation which will be necessary for the interest and retirement of the bonds will be gathered by the executive committee.

To Show Figures

On the ways and means committee are: O. M. Newby, Charles Marshall and Dr. Floyd Thompson. The members of the committee on publicity are: W. L. Twining, P. J. Hayselden and Alexander Mitchell. Mr. Newby is to officiate as chairman of the ways and means committee and Mr. Twining will be chairman of the committee on publicity.

One of the plans of the executive committee is to have copies of the letter from H. C. Saulsberry, city controller, showing the amount of additional tax on each $100 valuation necessary to pay interest and retire the bonds, printed on small handbills and circulated throughout the city. The figures furnished by Mr. Saulsberry show $0.176 on each $100 valuation will care for the retirement and interest payments yearly, with the exception of the bonds for water system improvements and water-bearing land, which will be retired from revenue of the department.

Each member of the Citizens' Bond committee will be given data on the bond issue to be presented to his or her organization before the election, September 30, according to the present plans.

Flyers Reach Boston; Accorded Big Welcome

Lieutenant Wade dropped into the water a few yards further out, and at 2:11 Lieutenant Nelson dipped his pontoons into the bay.

Guns Thunder Salute

Immediately General Patrick put out in a small navy launch and went to Lieutenant Smith's machine.

As he pulled away from the barge, the anti-aircraft guns thundered their salute, the whistles and sirens increasing in volume. And a fireboat near the planes turned loose all its jets, throwing a screen of water that seemed nearly as high as the spire of the customs house in the background.

As General Patrick reached Lieutenant Smith's plane he shook hands with the daring leader of the flight, who had crawled down on to the pontoons as the general's boat approached.

General Patrick's launch then proceeded to the other planes.

Elihu Root, former secretary of state, was chosen chairman of the jury of the American peace award committee.

ARREST FIRPO ON U. S. WARRANT

GIRL CHARGE COMES TO HEARING

Fighter Surrenders Himself To Immigration Officers At Ellis Island

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Luis Angel Firpo, the Argentine heavyweight, surrendered himself to Immigration Commissioner H. H. Curran at Ellis Island today and was served with a warrant charging him with "having attempted to bring a woman into the United States for immoral purposes," and with making false and misleading statements in gaining entrance to this country.

Firpo's attorney, Hyman Bushel, notified Commissioner Curran he would have Firpo at the island as soon as possible.

The Argentine fighter was at the Battery at 12:45 and had surrendered himself at 1 o'clock.

The charge refers to the fact that Miss Bianca Lourdes, an Argentine woman, was on the same ship that brought Firpo from Buenos Aires to this country.

Firpo was also charged with false and misleading statements to secure his entry to this country.

The big boxer was dressed entirely in gray—the same suit of clothes he wore when he first appeared to answer charges of perjury made against him by Rev. William Sheafe Chase, who has pushed the present investigation.

Hearing Set for Sept. 15

Firpo was held in bail of $1000, which he furnished and his first hearing before Commissioner Curran will be held September 15, the commissioner announced at the arraignment. The arraignment was concluded speedily.

Hyman Bushel, Firpo's attorney, went to the island with $25,000 in cash and Liberty bonds to meet the required bail.

After living in various cities of Southern California most of his life, Ted Combs, swimming instructor at Bimini Hot Springs, and known all along the southern coast, has selected Glendale as his home. Combs recently purchased a new house at 1031 Thompson avenue.

For the past fifteen years Combs has been in charge of beaches at Venice, Ocean Park, Long Beach, Redondo Beach and many others. He is the originator of the "six-course" system of swimming instruction. He has won a number of cups, trophies and medals in tank competition.

Mr. and Mrs. Combs, and their two children, Ted, jr., and Paul, will take up their residence in Glendale in the near future. The transaction was handled by J. E. Barney.

SILVA WINS BOUT, FOULED IN THIRD

Low Blow Puts Nationalista Out of Bantam Tourney In Hollywood

Teddy Silva remains in the bantamweight tourney at Hollywood and Young Nationalista is out, as the result of a low blow accidentally struck in the third round of last night's fight at the Legion stadium. Referee George Blake gave Silva the decision after the foul. Silva has been leading most of the time up to the low blow go.

In the semi-windup Eddie White flung a lot of gloves at Frankie Tierney and was given the decision. Jack Sparr proved too good for Joe Layman in the special bout. Pico Ramies and Joe Mandot were fighting on a draw basis until Pico knocked Joe down in the last round and won the decision. Mike De Pinto and Young Bello split 50-50, Billy Hart and Young Danny did the same and the battle between Sid Boniface and the Hawaii Jap was so one-sided it was stopped in the third to save the Jap for a lot of punishment.

Sammy Mandell, lightweight from Chicago who is out here to break in the four-round racket, was introduced last night. He will meet Dick Hoppe next week. Bud Houser, U. S. C. athlete and winner of two firsts in the Olympics, was given a gold watch by the post.

More Opposition Comes To Firpo-Wills Contest

JERSEY CITY, N. J. Sept. 6.—Further opposition to the Firpo-Wills fight next Thursday night was contained today in a statement issued by Rev. Frank S. Ritter, secretary of the society of New Jersey for protection of morals and prevention of crime. He said a written protest against the fight would be filed with the authorities by five reform organizations, acting jointly.

The protest, he said, would call upon the officials to prevent the fight on the grounds that it would be "a brutalizing exhibition," detrimental to the community and contrary to its laws.

Lane Is Busy Denying Talk About Mormons

Two rumors were jumped on by William Lane, owner of the Salt Lake City baseball club. The first was the purchasing of the club by Jack Dempsey. According to a telegram, Dempsey had agreed to become a member of a group of Salt Lake business men who held an option on the club, Lane said, "It couldn't be true because no one has an option on the team."

The other rumor was that Ernie Johnson was to replace Duffy Lewis as manager of the nine. This Lane denied, but stated that he was always sweet on Johnson and would like to make a deal with the Yankees for him.

FIGHT RESULTS

At San Francisco—Teddy O'Hara and Joe Miller fought another tame draw; Frankie Dennie scored an easy win over Bobby Corbett; Ted Seidman took a decision over Sammy Compagno and Lefty Cooper was given the nod over Billy Springfeld.

Rain Prevents Polo Game at Meadowbrook

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The first match in the international polo games will not be played at Meadowbrook today because of the soggy condition of the field, due to rain. The first game will be played next Tuesday, the second the following Saturday and the third, if necessary, on some day in the following week.

WHITE SOX FANS TO FOLLOW TEAM

Second In Series of Semi-Pro Title Games Tomorrow At Inglewood

Glendale baseball fans who witnessed the fourteen-inning struggle last Sunday between the White Sox, champions of the Summer league, and Inglewood, champions of the Bay District league, as well as the fans who did not see the game but wished afterwards they had been among those present, are preparing to journey to Inglewood tomorrow to see these two teams clash in the second game of the semi-pro title series.

The first tilt of the series was won by Inglewood after the players had toiled through fourteen innings, and Clink had held the visitors scoreless for twelve innings. A bad bounce in the fourteenth, with the bases full, spelled defeat for the White Sox, the score being 3 to 1.

The victory Sunday brought the record of Inglewood up to nineteen consecutive victories. All these victories were gained with Haycox, pitching ace of the Bay District league, on the mound. A win tomorrow will give the Bay leaguers twenty straight wins and the semi-pro title of Southern California.

Will Change Line-up

The Inglewood line-up will be the same tomorrow, according to word from Speed Getchell, manager of the Bay crew. Haycox will be on the mound. File will do the receiving, Bell will play first, Scott will look after second. McMullin will take care of third. Palmer will cavort around short. In the outer gardens will be Barret in left, Stanley in center and Chamberlain in right.

The White Sox line-up will be changed, Frank Kerwin has indicated. Clink will be in the box for the locals and Al Tellez, the new hitting catcher, taking the place of "Big Boy" Joe Sullivan, who is in the Monrovia hospital with pneumonia, will be behind the log. Tellez got one of the three hits Haycox allowed last Sunday.

Miss Wills to Defend Title In State Match

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 6.—It looked like Miss Helen Wills would defend her California woman's single tennis title against the veteran, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy, as the state attorney went into the semi-final stages today.

Miss Wills was to meet Miss Eleanor Tennant and Mrs. Bundy clashed with Miss Charlotte Hosmer, Pacific coast champion. Both won hard fought matches yesterday, Miss Wills being extended to defeat Carolyn Swartz, 6-2, 6-2, while Mrs. Bundy defeated Avery Follet, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Coaching Staff for Trojans Announced

The complete football coaching staff at the University of Southern California for the coming season was made public by General Manager Gwynn Wilson yesterday.

Elmer Henderson will again direct the staff, which will be made up of Willis Hunter, Leo Calland, A. J. Sturzenegger, Chet Dolley and Lowell Lindley. James Anderson will act as trainer.

Wilson also announced that Arnold Eddy would act as his assistant.

The White Sox refused to hang up their cues and beat the Browns 4 to 1, Mike Cvengros holding the Sislerites to three hits.

BEES DROP THIRD TO SERAPH CREW

Myers Twirls Against His Former Playmates and Wins Game 8 to 3

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 6.—"Bim" Myers won the third straight game for Los Angeles yesterday when the Salt Lake Bees went down to defeat, 8 to 3. The Bees made all three of their runs in the seventh, tying the score, but McCabe weakened and the Angels shoved across four more which settled the old ball game. Twombly, Hood and McAuley poled out three-baggers during the day, which accounted for a half dozen of the Angel runs. Jenkins, Hood and Whaley made timely sacrifices and Durst made three bingles, including a two-bagger and a high dive for Pearce's potential three-bagger, all of which is worthy of mention.

Duffy Lewis was noticeable by his absence, no one yanking McCabe when he weakened. Marty Krug was noticeable by his presence, making an error in the seventh which might have let Myers out with a clean slate.

San Francisco made it four straight over Sacramento, winning yesterday's tilt 13 to 8, with Scherr on the mound. Incidentally, the Seals clinched the series and drew further away from Seattle in the pennant race.

Oakland at Seattle trounced the Indians 3 to 0, Mails and Plummer giving the fans a fine bit of blank verse until the eighth when the Acorns scattered enough hits to win.

The Tigers took another tumble at Portland, losing a perfectly good game in the last four innings, 15 to 13. Six runs in the eighth for the Ducks tell the story.

ON THE SANDLOTS

The big fuss among the sandlotters tomorrow, of course, will be the Inglewood-White Sox fiesta over in the bay district locale.

The Arcadia Elks, who met the Sox here some time ago, will play the Ventura Bills at Ventura tomorrow. It has been called one of those crucial games, since it has a bearing on the title.

The Pasadena Elks will enjoy a rest tomorrow, watching the Arcadia-Ventura struggle.

Lots of action appears in the offing when one thinks about the Catalina Island Cubs—Paul G. Hoffman Auto squad game tomorrow over on the Magic Isle.

Hawthorne, runners-up in the Bay District league, will play at Lankershim tomorrow.

The Pacific Electrics and the Santa Fe Reds hook up at San Bernardino for the Sunday pastime. It will be the fourth struggle between these teams in recent weeks, with the trolley men taking the first three.

TAGGING THE BASES

The Giants came to life and smacked the Phillies twice, 6 to 5 and 15 to 3, increasing their lead to slightly more than half a game. Seven homers were made.

The Dodgers won their fourteenth straight game as Rube Ehrhardt shut out the Braves with five hits, 4 to 0. One big inning, the fifth, cooked Boston's goose.

Alexander the Great abdicated temporarily and the Reds trimmed the Cubs again 3 to 1, almost shoving them out of the first division.

Detroit started a last desperate drive for the pennant by swamping the Indians twice, 7 to 3 and 20 to 1.

AT LA CRESCENTA

LA CRESCENTA, Sept. 6.—An increased demand for property in the La Crescenta valley is raising the prices on property throughout the valley. Highway Highland, the most westerly subdivision in the valley, owned by Mark Collins, Fred Anderson and R. Q. McDonald, have published notices of the raise in prices in this subdivision. There are already 100 homes here, and about fifty lots remain on the tract. The present price of $500 will be increased to $700 on September 10. At the end of the year any lot that is left will be priced at $800. The tract has its own well, grocery store and gas station. In fact, it is a small village in itself. A modern baker is to be added, also a public garage.

On Sunday, September 7, the members of St. Luke's of the Mountain will celebrate Holy Communion, Rev. Dr. Renison of Eagle Rock officiating. Service is at 10:45, Sunday school service at 9:45 o'clock. Both services are held in the La Crescenta school auditorium.

Mrs. Helen Harrison, teacher of dramatic expression, presented her pupils in recital with the following program: Readings, "Envy," "Doorbells," Annaleah Mehard; pantomime, "Elves of the shoemaker," cast, The shoemaker, Belle Gray; his wife, Eloise Stafford; elves, Dorris Lally, Ruth Lally, customers, Alene Mehard and Hannah Jasper.; readings, "Boy and His Stomach," Hannah Jasper, Rebecca Doris Lally; "An Old-Fashioned School," Aalene and Annaleah Mehard; "Tick Tock," Myrtle Lally; "An April Adventure," Eloise Stafford; "Moo Cow Moo," Ruth Lally; "Our House," Belle Gray. A one-act play entitled "The Song of the Heart," elicited much applause, with the following cast: The dame, Doris Lally; Isabelle, Hannah Jasper; the queen, Eloise Stafford; the prince, Alene Mehard; the aunts, Ruth Lally, Gelle Gray, Annaleah Mehard. Further readings were "Lullaby," Alene Mehard; "Baby Seed Song" and "Bonnets," Ruth Lally; "The Land of the Story Book," Hannah Jasper. After the program the guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. G. Mehard, at whose home the recital was given.

Mark Collins announces the October meeting of the La Crescenta Improvement association is also election of officers. However, Mr. Collins states that he will not run for office as president; neither will the present secretary run to succeed himself. Mr. Collins urges the people of La Crescenta to come prepared to put a capable man in the chair, as there will be a great deal of heavy work for the next year, and it is necessary to have a man in office who will be competent to take care of the problems that will be the order of the growing community.

Rev. Kelso of the La Crescenta Community church announces that Rev. Davenport of Hemet will preach the sermon at both morning and evening services on Sunday. Mr. Davenport is well known here, having served in the capacity of Presbyterian minister for some years, and is always accorded a hearty welcome. The evening services will be resumed on Sunday night for the winter season.

H. N. Fowler of Verdugo City announces the sale of three Chevrolet cars at the Moon Festival in Tujunga, where he had his booth. The advertising received at the fair will also bring in more sales, so Mr. Fowler states.

MONTROSE NOTES

MONTROSE, Sept. 6.—The Stuart Motor Co., which have been handling the Chevrolet sales agency in the valley, has now taken over the Star car agency for the entire La Crescenta valley. Mr. Stuart announces the new sport models in maroon, pigeon blue and gray are now available. These new models have the disk wheels and balloon tires.

The Montrose Methodist Community church will hold Sunday school services at 9:45; sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be served at 11 a. m. The young people's Epworth league will be conducted by Miss Ellen Swan at 6:30 p. m. The evening service will be particularly attractive as there will be special music rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Rouse of Highland Park. Mr. and Mrs. Rouse have lately come from Michigan and have done a great deal of church work. Every Wednesday night the prayer meeting is held at the church on the corner of Montrose and Orangedale avenues. A cordial welcome is extended to all residents to attend the services. The Ladies' Aid society of the church met at the home of Mrs. Cushman in Sparr Heights on Friday.

In about two or three weeks the Montrose theatre will be completed. A Wurlitzer organ is probably the type the directors will settle on. The interior of the building is in keeping with the artistic exterior. The theatre is up-to-date in every respect, modern, indirect lighting being one of the features. The delicate coloring used is very restful to the eye. The plastering and decorating inside are finished. The seats and organ are the next fixtures to be installed.

Clem Maxwell, proprietor of the new gas station at the southeast corner on Ocean View and Broadview avenues, gave away a coupon good for one gallon of oil with every five gallons of gas purchased at his station today. The coupon is divided into four parts, each good for one quart of oil which the customer may get as needed. A novel feature of the new station is a lighted air and water stand that any motorist may use at night. The service of the new station includes washing, lubrication and overhauling on any make of car.

Mrs. Blanche Scanlon, owner of the Little Dry Goods store, has added Butterick patterns to her stock, which will save her patrons the delay of waiting till orders could be filled.

Mark S. Collins with L. B. Watkins is platting out the Montrose avenue property owned by Mr. Collins, preparatory to building homes on the ground. This subdivision will have fifty-foot lots, a retaining stone-wall. The houses are to be strictly modern and in keeping with the homes already in the district. Mr. Watkins will build his permanent home on this tract and will superintend the building of the houses to be erected. Mr. Collins also states he expects to build more homes in La Crescenta valley than he has so far, as he expects this will be a winter of home-buying and not speculation. The subdivision is on Montrose avenue at Rosemont avenue on the north side of the car tracks.

A. C. Barlow Explains Gaudy Belt Buckle

That old adage about the necessity of looking prosperous if you would have people believe that you really are lolling in the lap of luxury reaches its strongest demonstration in the case of A. C. Barlow, realtor, 117 West Broadway, who is taking advantage of the warm summer days to spread his coat wide open and to parade along the streets with a new belt buckle sparkling with his initials and other ornaments set in diamonds, rubies and sapphires.

The suggestion that he had acquired his taste in personal decorations through his operations in Hollywood, where he is dickering over a real estate deal, was scouted as absurd, Barlow declaring that the jewelry work in the movie city is far more impressive than his own.

He claims that he bought the belt buckle while on a recent visit to Chicago, where, he says, such things are "dernier cri," as they say around the stock yards, among haut ton and the rest of the Windy City's elite.

Ah, Ha! Postoffice Hasn't Any Number!

The insistence of the local postoffice officials that all residences in the area included in the carrier service be properly numbered has laid them open to a snappy comeback, since it has become known that the postoffice itself has not yet hung up the numbers over its own front door, to show just where it actually stands on East Broadway.

Assistant Postmaster George Hallett, before leaving for a period of rest and recuperation by the sea, declared that he had worn himself to a shadow trying to get the "416" hung up, but without avail, and now his holiday is haunted by the fear that the mails coming to Glendale won't be taken to the postoffice at all.

Pasadena Pastor To Occupy Local Pulpit on Sunday

Mr. Leishman is one of the most prominent ministers of Southern California and Glendale people in general will welcome the opportunity of hearing him, it is declared by church officials.

It was stated that hundreds of Russians are seeking to enlist, but will not be used as combatants.

More than 1,200 men have been wounded in the fighting between the Chekiang and Kiangsu armies northwest of Shanghai, according to advices from the front today. The dead have not been estimated.

Wounded Fill Hospitals

Chinese Red Cross workers are laboring feverishly to keep pace with the rush of wounded from the fighting zone.

The Shanghai hospitals are filled. Two hundred soldiers are in hospitals in serious conditions. One thousand more are in field hospitals at the front. Heavy fighting continues.

SILVER TROPHIES TO BE EXHIBITED

Glendale Booth at Burbank Exposition Will Tell of City's Victories

One of the most impressive displays to be on exhibit at the San Fernando Valley Industrial Exposition that opens in Burbank on Tuesday, September 9, will be the showcase that contains the eleven silver trophies won by this city in various competitions against neighboring cities.

Behind the display of silver cups L. H. Wilson and George J. Lyons, the exposition committee, have arranged a background of blue and gold, bearing the words, "Population 50,000. The City of Glendale, the Fastest Growing City in America. Glendale Chamber of Commerce." In front of the Glendale booth the committee men have erected a pedestal to cover a motor that is part of the exposition's equipment, and on this they have also painted Glendale signs. Literature giving data regarding Glendale will be distributed to all the visitors to the exposition, which will last until September 13.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Lyons will be in charge of the booth on the opening night of the exposition, and other members of the Chamber of Commerce will be in charge of it on other nights, with some one on duty during the times the exposition is open during the day.

Mrs. J. G. Huntley and Daughter Return Home

Mrs. J. G. Huntley and daughter, Miss Virginia, of 308 North Central avenue, returned home yesterday on the steamship City of Los Angeles, after spending three delightful weeks on the Hawaiian Islands. They visited all the points of interest and are particularly enthusiastic over the beauties of the islands. They visited in Honolulu and the famous Kilauea and Mauna Kea volcanoes. Mrs. Huntley states they came home very much refreshed and feeling as though their trip was not only a delightful pleasure but also educational.

Upon their arrival home, Mrs. Huntley found a telegram announcing the death of her father, Russell T. Gardiner of New York. His death occurred on Monday and the funeral was held yesterday. Mrs. Huntley expects to leave for the east in a very few days. She plans to bring her mother home with her to make her home here.

Miss Virginia Huntley will leave Glendale September 14 for Claremont, where she will resume her studies at Pomona college.

Vocal Teacher Opens Studio In Glendale

Signor Martini will fit his pupils for church, concert and stage work, offering instruction in Italian and English diction as well as singing. He comes from Chicago, where he states that he studied under Alessandro Bori. He chose Glendale for the location of his studio because of close friends living here.

Signor Martini also studied under the celebrated Olivia Dahl of Spokane, Norwegian concert singer, he states, and is at present coaching opera with Achilles Alberti of Los Angeles, maker of Mario Chamlee, Metropolitan opera star, a Los Angeles youth.

Number of Shoppers Bring Firm to City

It was the density of the traffic and the numbers of shoppers on the streets of Glendale that decided L. Tillotson and his son, M. E. Tillotson, to select this city for their Art-Needle Work shop, which will open at 134 South Brand boulevard, September 15.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Tillotson, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Tillotson and the latter's two daughters, Ray Mary and Joan, are living at 423 West Pioneer drive. They arrived here from Chicago July 31 and selected Glendale for their home and the home of their business after driving all over Los Angeles county.

Three years ago Mr. and Mrs. L. Tillotson spent February and March in Southern California and observed at that time how fast Glendale was growing. The family has been engaged in the art and needle work business in Chicago for twelve years.

Navy To Conduct Campaign 'Ma' Ferguson Is Opposed We Must Be Thankful Community Loyalty Benefit

—By Gil A. Cowan—

A great deal is being said about Defense Day, September 12. Citizens of the United States on the Pacific coast should give a minute's thought to Naval Day, which is to be celebrated October 27. The Navy league proposes to conduct a campaign of education following out the suggestion of Secretary Curtis D. Wilbur that Americans should take occasion "to know the navy."

Few, other than those who have served, actually know what there is in a sailor's life that causes men to enlist and re-enlist. The men are proud of their boats, they "star" in athletics, and they have a carefree spirit on land that appeals to the imagination of the most morbid.

"Ma" Ferguson is going to have the president of a state normal school in Texas as her opponent at the coming election. Republicans in secret session yesterday decided to bring out one of the most popular men in the state in an effort to overcome the Democratic victory in the offing.

Now it would be unkind to say that chivalry does not exist in Texas, and it is the writer's belief that "Ma" Ferguson will sweep the state like a new broom, despite her opposition to the klan.

The women will vote solidly for her, no doubt, and there will be a whole lot of men who will want to see what a woman will do in the governor's chair.

In other words, it is a petticoat conspiracy for publicity on the part of the Lone Star state.

Description of the hurricane that swept the Atlantic by a Glendale teacher who arrived safely home grips the imagination and brings to mind the force of uncontrolled power.

In a recent magazine story the description of a tornado holds one enthralled. The tales fresh in mind of the Japanese earthquake make mortals shudder.

And yet what is it all about? Certainly, it is not the wrath of any Almighty being. It is nothing more nor less than earthly phenomena which remind us that to be in the land of the living is a blessing.

Sometimes we forget to be thankful. Sometimes we warp in the salubrious sunshine of the Southland. Instead, we should do everything to make this a better world in which to live. That is our mission on earth.

The Pasadena Star-News announces that construction will start at once on a four-story building to house its plant.

The Star-News, under the direction of Charles H. Prisk and associates, has enjoyed the benefits derived from "Community loyalty." It has aided in the building of Pasadena by presenting the reading public one of the most thoroughly organized newspapers in the southwest. In turn, Pasadena has builded the paper to a size where it compares favorably with Los Angeles publications.

It is an achievement worthy of commendation and emulation.

Fire Unit to Take Griffith Hills Hike

Several drill teams of the Glendale unit, Angeles Forest Protective association, will hike up the Griffith park hills tomorrow morning with seventy-five pound packs on their backs, under the leadership of Leo Lang, first assistant chief of the unit. They will start at 10 o'clock, from Station No. 1 of the Glendale fire department, 311 East Broadway.

The object of the hike is to get the men in shape for the big hike up Mt. Wilson on Sunday, September 14, according to Mr. Lang, when units from all the Southern California cities in the association will engage in a competitive five-mile relay, with seventy-five pound packs.

This is the second of these practice hikes to Griffith park, Mr. Lang states, the first being held last Sunday. Ray C. Fairall, transportation man of the unit, is expected to be in the party, as well as several of the following crew leaders: T. W. Curl, J. E. Kurtz, W. B. Halligan, Don Urqhart, J. C. May, J. F. Rowell, Bert Richardson, E. W. Gilliland, W. B. Kelly and H. B. Thompson.

PENDROY WINDOW RECEIVES PRAISE

Indian Display Arranged by E. J. Sullivan Deserves Special Inspection

A scene from "The Land of the Sky Blue Water" has been cleverly arranged in one of the windows at the E. C. Pendroy store, South Brand Blvd. at Harvard street, by E. J. Sullivan, window trimmer, featuring the offering of attractive Beacon Indian blankets and robes.

Indian braves, life-like cut out figures, sit in council among piles of bright colored blankets and robes. Wigwams, foliage, moccasins and other Indian treasures offer realistic touches. The scene is effectively lighted by a green flood light for coolness and spotlights for brilliancy.

Mr. Sullivan's clever window work is being highly praised by Pendroy patrons and friends. It is well worth a special visit of inspection.

Many Stockholders at C. C. Julian Meeting

Among the stockholders in the various C. C. Julian organizations who attended last night's meeting in the Hollywood Bowl, when the "oil wizard" discussed the present condition of his business were Lloyd Gomes, Fred B. Walker and Frank Stoner, employes in the Glendale postoffice. They estimated that the crowd in the bowl amounted to over 25,000 people.
